Can the artery close up again?

It is rare for this to happen, but it is possible for this to happen at any time. Sometimes plaque or scar like tissue builds up within the artery or the other part of the artery. This is why it is important for patients who smoke to quit. However, we like to keep an eye on the artery and will do an Ultrasound to look at it in 1 month, 6 months and one year. After one year we do ultrasound depending on the blockage on the other side either every 6 month or every year.
